

The wavel

The dark evil ocean made a whirlpool; the pitch black clouds covered the sky, speeding lightning crashed on the monstrous sea which created the insane geynosmas waves.

BANG! Lightning hit the boats they smashed into each other.

One of the children fell out of the boat the other one was distraught because she thought he was dead, but he was attached to a rope to get back up but both of them were heading to a whirlpool.